

To measure the belt, start from the hole where you usually fasten the belt and end at the internal edge of the buckle, as shown in the picture.